One of a Kind Spring Show

Bringing 300 jury-selected independent artists from across North America for a weekend of shopping and entertainment, the One of a Kind Show is excited to announce their return to theMART for the 6th Annual Spring show taking place Friday, April 29 through Sunday, May 1. Just in time to get ahead of Mother's Day, Father's Day and graduation gifting, shoppers can find a unique assortment of products spanning 20 categories including everything from fashion to fine art to home ware, accessories and gourmet goods. A truly unique experience, show attendees will have the opportunity to interact in-person with the artists themselves to understand their processes and inspirations behind each piece. To add to the experience, live music, gourmet cafes and hands-on workshops will be offered throughout the weekend.
