One of a Kind Spring Show Chicago

Chicago's perfect opportunity to get ahead of Mother's Day gifting is now on the books. The One of a Kind Spring Show and Sale® Chicago announces the return of the beloved 6th Annual Spring shopping event to be hosted at theMART, open to the public from Friday, April 29 through Sunday, May 1. The event offers attendees the opportunity to support the creative community while shopping and connecting with talented artists, makers and designers from all across North America. A truly unique experience, shoppers will have access to thousands of handmade goods spanning 20 categories including fine art, ceramics, mixed media, fashion, furniture, fiber art, jewelry, gourmet goods, pet products, photography, accessories, bath and body, children's products, home goods and more. The show will also feature exciting entertainment and activities including gourmet cafes, live music, hands-on workshops and more, with further details to be announced. Tickets will go live early March at oneofakindshowchicago.com.
